Shadows were creeping upon the rich grassy glades of the forest and it was at this late hour that he set out on his quest. So far as he could plan, he would go by way of the winding path, to the far end, down by the dell, and wait until sundown. He was in no very placid state of mind, yet it was his anxiety as well as the fact of his promise to call at Don's, that made him the more determined. Step by step he plodded on until the last rays of the sun were hidden by the density of the trees, and as he made his way he mused over his plans. He would meet the man and conduct him to the hut of the hermit or to that of the lone resident by the river brink. At either of these places they could unravel the details in the midnight silence. No problem would easily baffle the crafty brain of his companion and the procedure they would adopt must in more than one way outwit

The success of Standardization in line casting composing machines as embodied in the Intertype, is acclaimed by Printers as one of the greatest achievements in the mechanical typographical art, and was accomplished through the concentrated efforts of Intertype Engineers and Designers exclusively, and primarily for the purpose of relieving conditions brought about by the complicated mechanical line casting equipment in use in newspaper and job printing offices. Standardization keeps the Printer's investment always at a minimum. He buys a Standardized basic unit and only such Standard equipment units as his present business demands. He need not tie up good money now in equipment he might not require until later on. Intertype magazines, moulds, liners, etc., are freely interchangeable. Up-keep
