Shadows were creeping upon the rich grassy glades of the forest and it was at this late hour that he set out on his quest. So far as he could plan, he would go by way of the winding path, to the far end, down by the dell, and wait until sundown. He was in no very placid state of mind, yet it was his anxiety as well as the fact of his promise to call at Don’s, that made him the more determined. Step by step he plodded on until the last rays of the sun were hidden by the density of the trees, and as he made his way he mused over his plans. He would meet the man and conduct him to the hut of the hermit or to that of the lone resident by the river brink. At either of these places they could unravel the details in the midnight silence. No problem would easily baffle the crafty brain of his companion and the procedure they would adopt must in more than one way outwit Shadows were creeping upon the rich grassy glades of the forest and it was at this late hour that he set out on his quest. So far as he could plan, he would go by way of the winding path, to the far end, down by the dell, and wait until sundown. He was in no very placid state of mind, yet it was his anxiety as well as the fact of his promise to call at Don’s, that made him the more determined. Step by step he plodded...
Shadows were creeping upon the rich grassy glades of the forest and it was at this late hour that he set out on his quest. So far as he could plan, he would go by way of the winding path, to the far end, down by the dell, and wait until sundown. He was in no very placid state of mind, yet it was his anxiety as well as the fact of his promise to call at Don's, that made him the more determined. Step by step he plodded on until the last rays of the sun were hidden by the density of the trees, and as he made his way he mused over his plans. He would meet the man and conduct him to the hut of the hermit or to that of the lone resident by the river brink. At either of these places they could unravel the details in the midnight silence. No problem would easily baffle the crafty brain of his companion and the procedure they would adopt must in more than one way outweigh their rival's claims. With increasing eagerness he quickened his pace and made straight for the place assigned for their meeting. Counting every moment impatiently, half-an-hour had passed before he could dimly see the approaching form of his accomplice, with swift, regular and light-footed steps, typical of the virile temperament of the man. In a breathless string of words he told of his forced delay by a roundabout route and of the need for a hasty exit from the dell. Could they not spare the time to make a scanty plan? No! They must be away with all possible speed and elude their pursuers. At a frantic pace they hurried off the beaten path, into the thick bracken, which, if it

Shadows were creeping upon the rich grassy glades of the forest and it was at this late hour that he set out on his quest. So far as he could plan, he would go by way of the winding path, to the far end, down by the dell, and wait until sundown. He was in no very placid state of mind, yet it was his anxiety as well as the fact of his promise to call at Don's, that made him the more determined. Step by step he plodded on until the last rays of the sun were hidden by the density of the trees, and as he made his way he mused over his plans. He would meet the man and conduct him to the hut of the hermit or to that of the lone resident by the river brink. At either of these places they could unravel the details in the midnight silence. No problem would easily baffle the crafty brain of his companion and the procedure they would adopt must in more than one way outweigh their rival's claims. With increasing eagerness he quickened his pace and made straight for the place assigned for their meeting.

Shadows were creeping upon the rich grassy glades of the forest and it was at this late hour that he set out on his quest. So far as he could plan, he would go by way of the winding path, to the far end, down by the dell, and wait until sundown. He was in no very placid state of mind, yet it was his anxiety as well as the fact of his promise to call at Don's, that made him the more determined. Step by step he plodded on until the last rays of the sun were hidden by the density of the trees, and as he made his way he mused over his plans. He would meet the man and conduct him to the hut of the hermit or to that of the lone resident by the river brink. At either of these places they could unravel the details in the midnight silence. No problem would easily baffle the crafty brain of his companion and the procedure they would adopt must in more than one way outweigh their rival's claims. With increasing eagerness he quickened his pace and made straight for the place assigned for their meeting.
Shadows were creeping upon the rich grassy glades of the forest and it was at this late hour that he set out on his quest. So far as he could plan, he would go by way of the winding path, to the far end, down by the dell, and wait until sundown. He was in no very placid state of mind, yet it was his anxiety as well as the fact of his promise to call at Don's, that made him the more determined. Step by step he plodded on until the last rays of the sun were hidden by the density of the trees, and as he made his way he mused over his plans. He would meet the man and conduct him to the hut of the hermit or to that of the lone resident by the river brink. At either of these places they could unravel the details in the midnight silence. No problem would easily baffle the crafty brain of his companion and the procedure they would adopt must in more than one way outwit their rival's claims. With increasing eagerness he quickened his pace and made straight for the place assigned for their meeting. Counting every moment impatiently, half-an-hour had passed before he could dimly see the approaching form of his accomplice, with swift, regular and light-footed steps, typical of the virile temperament of the man. In a breathless string of words he told of his forced delay by a roundabout route and of the need for a hasty exit from the dell. Could they not spare the time to make a scanty plan? No! They must be away with all possible speed and elude their pursuers. At a frantic pace they hurried off the beaten path, into the thick bracken, which, if it were possible to penetrate would bring them into direct line with the hermit's hut, and once there, all possible chance of
Shadows were creeping upon the rich grassy

glades of the forest and it was at this late hour that he set out on his quest. So far as he could plan he would go by way of the winding path, to the far end, down by the dell, and wait until sundown. He was in no very placid state of mind, yet it was his anxiety as well as the fact of his promise to call at Don’s, that made him the more determined. Step by step he plodded on until the last rays of the sun were hidden by the density of the trees, and as he made his way he mused over his plans. He would meet the man and conduct him to the hut of the hermit or to that of the lone resident by the river brink. At either of these places they could unrav el the details in the midnight silence. No problem would easily baffle the crafty brain of his companion and the procedure they would adopt must in more than one way outwit their rival’s claims. With increasing eagerness he quickened his pace and made straight for the place assigned for their meeting. Counting every moment impatiently, half-an-hour had passed before he could dimly see the approaching form of his accomplice.

Shadows were creeping upon the rich grassy

glades of the forest and it was at this late hour

that he set out on his quest. So far as he could

plan he would go by way of the winding path,
to the far end, down by the dell, and wait until tsundown. He was in no very placid state of mind, yet it was his anxiety as well as the fact

of his promise to call at Don’s, that made him

the more determined. Step by step he plodded

on until the last rays of the sun were hidden by

the density of the trees, and as he made his way

he mused over his plans. He would meet the

man and conduct him to the hut of the hermit

or to that of the lone resident by the river

brink. At either of these places they could unrav

el the details in the midnight silence. No

problem would easily baffle the crafty brain of

his companion and the procedure they would

adopt must in more than one way outwit their

rival’s claims. With increasing eagerness he

quickened his pace and made straight for the

place assigned for their meeting. Counting

every moment impatiently, half-an-hour had

passed before he could dimly see the approaching form of his accomplice, with swift, regular and light-footed steps, typical of the virile temperament of the man. In a breathless string of words he told of his forced delay by a roundabout route and of the need for a hasty exit from the dell.

Shadows were creeping upon the rich grassy

glades of the forest and it was at this late hour

that he set out on his quest. So far as he could

plan, he would go by way of the winding path,
to the far end, down by the dell, and wait until

tsundown. He was in no very placid state of

shadows were creeping upon the rich grassy
glades of the forest and it was at this late hour

that he set out on his quest. So far as he could

plan, he would go by way of the winding path,
to the far end, down by the dell, and wait until

tsundown. He was in no very placid state of

shadows were creeping upon the rich grassy
glades of the forest and it was at this late hour

that he set out on his quest. So far as he could

plan, he would go by way of the winding path,
to the far end, down by the dell, and wait until

tsundown. He was in no very placid state of

shadows were creeping upon the rich grassy

glades of the forest and it was at this late hour

that he set out on his quest. So far as he could

plan, he would go by way of the winding path,
to the far end, down by the dell, and wait until

tsundown. He was in no very placid state of

shadows were creeping upon the rich grassy Theresa

Goes Shopping

This specimen setting shows Intertype ten point and nine point De Vinne with Italic and Small Capitals, lines set solid. The display lines are set in Intertype Shadow and Intertype Bodoni Modern.

She sees thrilling capes

Shadows were creeping upon the rich grassy glades of the forest and it was at this late hour that he set out on his quest. So far as he could plan, he would go by way of the winding path, to the far end, down by the dell, and wait until sundown. He was in no very placid state of mind, yet it was his anxiety as well as the fact of his promise to call at Don's, that made him the more determined. Step by step he plodded on until the last rays of the sun were hidden by the density of the trees, and as he made his way he mused over his plans.

He would meet the man and conduct him to the hut of the hermit or to that of the lone resident by the river brink. At either of these places they could unravel the details in the midnight silence. No problem would easily baffle the crafty brain of his companion and the procedure they would adopt must in more than one way outwit their rival's claims. With increasing eagerness he quickened his pace and made straight for the place assigned for their meeting.

Counting every moment impatiently, half-an-hour had passed before he could dimly see the approaching form of his accomplice, with swift, regular and light-footed steps, typical of the virile temperament of the man. In a breathless string of words he told of his forced delay by a roundabout route and of the need for a hasty exit from the dell. Could they not spare the time to make a scanty plan? No! They must be away with all possible speed and elude their pursuers. At a frantic pace they hurried off the beaten path, into the thick bracken, which, if it were possible to penetrate, would bring them into direct line with the hermit's hut, and once there, all possible chance of discovery could be ignored. After half-an-hour struggling their way through the bracken they were astonished to see the faint glow of a dying fire. Had their journey been anticipated? Had the purpose of their mission been discovered and the scoundrels lain in wait? They checked their pace to a stealthy crawl, peering through the darkness.

She sees telephone "dolls" (content to let you have the last word!)